Chips and pigtails cannot be matched

Overview

Mixing singlemode and multimode pigtailed in the same link is a common and costly mistake. 5 μ m) are fundamentally incompatible—attempting to splice or connect them results in massive insertion loss (often 10+ dB) that will fail every optical power. Get the wrong connector type, the wrong polish, or skip proper fusion splicing technique—and you're looking at elevated signal loss, increased back reflection, and a. When I try to re-update the firmware with the WCH-Link Utility, I get: 22:16:21:440>> Begin to set chip type. 22:16:21:496>> Failed,the chip type is not matched or status of chip is wrong! When I go back to Moun River and try to. Now, I can't get another board to connect with my CH-LINK Programmer (see picture 2). They are the bridge between fiber optic cables in the field and the equipment or patch panels that manage them.
