Fiber optic cable distance for self-built houses

Overview

A: For most applications, the maximum distance of a single-mode cable is around 160 kilometers. Q: How far can multimode fiber go?

A: It varies with the data speed and fiber type. The shortest range transceivers can reach 550 meters at 1 Gbps, while the longest range transceivers can reach 160 km (about 100 miles)! Without a fiber solution such as a fiber to Ethernet media converter, or a coax solution such as. With smart fiber installation techniques, fiber optic networks can also be built at a significantly lower cost than the corresponding copper-based LAN networks. Attenuation is the progressive loss of signal strength that occurs as light travels through the fiber.
