The connector styles are DNP, ESCON, FC, FDDI, FSD, FSMA, LC, MPO, MT-RJ, MU, SC, SCRJ, SCRJ and Power Jack, SMA, ST, TNC, and VF-45. A fiber optic connector is a mechanical device used to align and join optical fibers, enabling light to pass through with minimal loss. The number of fibers changes how you set up your network and how much you can grow it later. The fiber connector types, sometimes referred to as terminations, link fiber optic cables together through terminals, switches, adapters, and patch panels, by bridging the gap between their.
